HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. B. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

CLEAR THE DIRT!
HOW?
BY USING STANDARD SOAP CO.'S
WASHING POWDERS.

CAUTION.—OWING TO THE MANY IMITATIONS of this article, persons should be very cautious and purchase none but that branded "Standard Soap Company, of San Francisco," on packages and boxes. The imitations are palmed off by dealers, because of a greater profit to themselves. The great demand for this powder is a sure guarantee of its good qualities for washing purposes. It saves time and labor, and does not injure the finest fabric. Sold by all Grocers. Try Standard Soap Co.'s Detersive Soap. ap21d3m

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 16.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The President sent the following nomination to the Senate to-day: Amos Ackerman, of Georgia, to be Attorney General of the United States vice E. R. Hoar, resigned. Ackerman is U. S. Attorney of Georgia, a native of New Hampshire, formerly an old line Whig and an active Republican since the formation of the party. He is an able lawyer and well qualified for the position.

The House proceeded to vote on the Cuban resolutions. Logan's amendment to give parties the same advantage of intercourse and trade with the United States, consistent with the laws of nations, was rejected by 101 to 77. Bingham's substitute was then voted on and carried affirmatively through all stages, so that this resolution is finally adopted. The excitement here, owing to the state of Cuban affairs, exceeds anything ever before witnessed. Private assurance of a recast of the whole Cabinet is freely given by the President. There are ominous hints of impeachment. Butler is emphatically execrated by Republicans.

The Committee on Reconstruction, at a full meeting, confirmed their previous action on the Georgia bill, which omits reference to a new election of members of the Legislature, but provides for the organization and equipping of militia.

The House refused to concur with the Senate on the appropriation bill.

The bill granting the Utah Central Railroad the right of way through the public lands for the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from Ogden to Salt Lake City, passed. Wheeler reported a bill granting the Island of Yerba Buena to the Central Pacific Railroad as a terminus, provided half the island be reserved to the United States for fortifying, and that the bill shall not impair the lawful rights of private parties to the island.

Axtell supported the bill, and reminded the House that there was no prohibition from Government to sell that island. Half of it, were a railroad to cross it, would be more valuable to Government than the whole of it, were it not. It would be a great public convenience to those who opposed the bill and opposed the true interests of San Francisco and Government.

Maynard offered an amendment requiring the company to erect, whenever necessary, a drawbridge over such parts of the channel as the Engineer may suggest. Adopted.

In the Senate, Drake's amendment continuing the law relative to the free transmission of newspapers, was adopted—17 to 36.

The House bill to establish a Department of Justice, passed.

The resignation of Hoar and the appointment of Ackerman, appears to be founded only on the desire of the President to give the South a position in the Cabinet. The relations of Hoar and the President were always friendly. The latter, in accepting the resignation, expressed high approbation of the able and devoted manner in which he discharged the functions of office.

Miscellaneous Telegrams.

MADISON, Ind., June 16.—The Republican Congressional Convention of the Third District, has nominated Henry R. Richard.

BOSTON, June 16.—A terrible accident on the Vermont and Massachusetts Railroad, between Royal Stone and Athol, occurred to-day. The train was thrown over a bridge. Johnson, of Fitchburg, and two others killed and four persons seriously injured, including the mail agent, fireman and three others, slightly.

Judge Clifford, of the U. S. Circuit Court, has decided that Congress has no power to tax the salaries of State officers.

The Earthquake in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 11.—The earthquake of May 11th, was felt at Tabasco. All the churches and nearly all the private dwellings at Notrablia were thrown to the ground. Near Pachutla the roads were rendered impassable by rocks from the mountain-sides.

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Joseph Dion accepts Rudolph's challenge for an American, English and French game of billiards, for $1,000 each.

The Tribune dispatch contradicts the rumors that Secretary Fish is about to resign, or that there is any disagreement between him and the President. No reason exists for believing Hoar's resignation indicates any change in the Cabinet. The President's Cuban Message was under consideration in the Cabinet two weeks before it was sent to Congress. The best information leads to the conclusion that it was written by Assistant Secretary of State Davis and revised by Secretary Fish and Attorney-General Hoar.

The majority of the San Domingo Committee will report to exonerate Gen. Babcock from the charges made against him by Hatch, while the minority will hold that he has not wholly cleared himself.

Late Havana advices leave scarcely a doubt as to the failure of the Upton expedition. A number of men and 2,000 stand of arms were landed and immediately afterward captured. The steamer escaping, the Spanish gunboats sailed for Aspinwall. Bad management is plainly the cause of the disaster.

CINCINNATI, June 16.—The Republican Convention of the 1st Congressional District of Indiana, to-day, nominated H. C. Gooding.

To-day W. H. L. Barnes, counsel for Lansing, who shot at and seriously wounded T. Hylton in the face a few days since, appeared in the police court with Mr. Lansing and moved that the case be postponed until Monday, when they would again appear, waive an examination and give bonds for Lansing's presence.

BY THE CABLES

ROME, June 15.—The Pope has fixed the 22d of July as the last day allowed to Americans to submit to the Holy See. Failing thereon, they are to be excommunicated.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—John Moore, who was wounded by a pistol ball in the leg at Marysville, is in the County Hospital here. The practice of sending such patients here from other counties to be a tax upon San Francisco, is becoming so general that it is probable that admission to the hospital will be hereafter refused in all such cases.

John Harrington, nephew of the late Peter Jobson, and for some years employed in his California office, died to-day. He contracted consumption while with the Russian Overland Telegraph expedition some years ago.

N. B. Stone, the new Postmaster of San Francisco, is expected here from the East to-morrow.

A number of Chinese have been discharged from the Mission Woolen Mills, where they tended spinning machines, and their places supplied by white men and boys.

Six jurors have been found for the Nagual murder trial and the panel may be completed to-morrow. Judge McKinstry has ruled that the defence cannot peremptorily challenge a juror until the panel is complete, though this is contrary to the usual practice.

The following dispatch was received:

SAN JOSE, June 17.—To M. S. Latham: W. H. Bryant was killed in the cars this morning. He had a check on the Bank of California for $24,000 in your favor. Inform his friends.

(Signed) DR. TURNER.

Transactions in stocks mainly on time and among the brokers only, very few outsiders mixing in, have been immense within the present week. 2,430 shares of Treasure changed hands at the morning Board and 1,650 in evening. Savage was also largely dealt in. Prices were generally higher this forenoon. Treasure, 12½; Noonday, 1½; Oriental, 1½; Overman, 64; Belcher, 71; Curry, 12; Imperial, 38; Seg. Belcher, 25; O. Fir, 13; Chollar, 26; Crown Point, 95; Norcross, 165; Savage, 57½; Nevada, 8½; Eureka, 500.

Greenbacks reached 85½ buying, and 90 selling to-day—the highest point reached in eight years.

Nothing has yet been heard from the steamer Henry Chauncey, now five days over due at New York, with passengers from here of May 18th per Constitution, and the anxiety among the friends of those on board is becoming intensely painful.

The officers of the P. M. S. S. Co. say there is no ground for unusual apprehension as the Chauncey is one of the staunchest steamers afloat and the weather at this season is the most favorable of the year.

The Removal of the Capital.

The two articles subjoined, from the New York Herald and New York Sun, cover the whole ground of argument against the foolish attempt to remove the National Capital:

[From the N. Y. Herald.]

Some of the Western people, and particularly those of St. Louis are endeavoring to get up an agitation to remove the seat of Government from Washington to the Mississippi valley. They appear to be supported in this, too, by some of the members of Congress from the West. There has been a call for the Governors of several States in that section to assemble together for the purpose of promoting this object, several of the State Legislatures of the West have spoken in favor of it, public meetings have been worked up to agitate the question, and some of the Western members of Congress are opposing any further appropriations for public buildings or improvements in Washington, on the ground that the capital will be removed, and that to expend anything more there would be a waste of money. The movement has not become general in the West, but seems to have its focus in St. Louis. The people, or rather the property-holders and speculators, of that city are the principal movers in this local agitation, because they want the capital to be located there. As far as they are concerned it is a grand speculation or job, though got up under the pretext of national interest and the convenience of the Government and the Western member of Congress.

The principal argument used for the removal of the capital to the Mississippi valley is that St. Louis, or some other point not very far west from that city, is near the geographical center of the Republic, and will, in the course of time, be about the center of population. This is true, undoubtedly, with regard to the territorial center, and there may be a large population west of this in the distant future, though there will be always, probably, a greater population east of the geographical center than west. The vast and fertile valley of the Ohio and of the States bordering the lakes, the rich Southern States from the Atlantic to the Mississippi, and from the Gulf to the Potomac, the wealth and wonderful resources of New York and Pennsylvania, the manufacturing industry and accumulated capital of New England and the commercial outlet and power of the Atlantic cities, will attract and develop a larger population than the comparatively desert prairie region west of Kansas and the vast mountainous country beyond to the shores of the Pacific. Though the area is greater west of the Mississippi, the population will always be much larger, probably, east of that river. While we admit that the States on the Pacific will have a mighty future, that vast commercial cities will grow up there, that San Francisco may become second only to New York, and that there will be an extraordinary development of the commerce between that part of the republic and Asia, yet the commerce between the Atlantic cities and civilized Europe will continue to be of far more importance. The center of business, of wealth, and of intelligence will remain far east of the geographical center. That will remain near the Atlantic border. The argument in favor of removing the capital, then, on the ground of placing it in a central position has little foundation.

But it is said that Washington is too near the Atlantic, too easy of approach by an enemy in time of war, and can not be so well protected or defended as the capital could be if it were in the Mississippi valley. This is a mere bugbear. No nation or combination of nations could, or are ever likely, to attempt a war on the soil of this mighty Republic, where there is such a dense population. Nor would any fleet, in this age of science, steam power, monitors, iron-clads, and all the other formidable appliances of war that can be promptly prepared and used, venture to go up the Potomac. Washington can be as well defended as any city in the world.

As to the convenience of members of Congress reaching the capital, what does it matter whether those from the West cross the Alleghany mountains to come eastward or those from the East cross them to go westward? Then railroads and telegraph bring all parts of the country into convenient communication. Distance is no longer reckoned by miles, and space is annihilated comparatively. The probability is that, in the progress of science and improvements we shall be able to travel by and by from one end of the Republic to the other in a few days. For all business and social purposes the telegraph brings every place and person near to each other.

Admitting that a hundred millions or two hundred millions for the construction of a Capitol and other public buildings might not be of much consequence to this rich country, it would be a shameful waste of money to abandon the magnificent and costly structures at Washington, and to erect others at another place when there is no good reason for removing the capital. Besides, short as our history is, Washington has a grand historical character, a name and prestige that should command our respect, and the honor of being founded by the Father of his Country and the sages of our Independence. If the capital should ever be removed, New York, the great commercial metropolis and center of intelligence of the country, would be the proper place for it; but there is no necessity for its removal. The agitation for the purpose has been got up by a few Western politicians to tickle their constituents, and by some speculators who want to make money. There is no fear of the movement succeeding, but we advise Congress to crush it by some decisive action in its incipiency, for it can only can lead to sectional controversy and trouble.

[From the N. Y. Sun.]

A meeting was held at St. Louis a few evenings since to consider the subject of removing the national capital to the Mississippi valley. A committee was appointed to gather statistics and to induce the Legislatures of the various States to request Congress to make no more appropriations for public buildings at Washington. This is one of a series of meetings held at various points in the West within the last six months. Taken in connection with private advices and the discussion of the subject by newspapers throughout that region, it leaves little room to doubt that the people of the Mississippi valley are really in earnest in desiring the capital to be located in that region. The reasons given are various, but the one upon which they place the most stress is that the capital of a great nation like ours should be near the geographical center of the country, whatever or wherever that may be. They argue that in the Mississippi valley the capital would be free from the danger of capture by an invading army, while at the same time it could be more readily and quickly reached by such citizens as might have business with the Government.

In this day of palace, hotel, and sleeping cars, steamboats and telegraphs, the geographical idea in point of convenience is scarcely worthy of consideration. Travel from any part of the country to any other point is reduced to a matter of perfect certainty. The Hon. John A. Logan can travel from Illinois to Washington in half the time to-day that Thomas Jefferson consumed between Monticello and Philadelphia seventy years ago. When mileage is considered, the advantages are greatly in favor of the members from Illinois and the far West, and they will doubtless perceive it before the capital is removed.

The consideration of safety from invasion is one that may safely be left out of this discussion. Since the termination of the rebellion, it may be confidently asserted that all the underwriters in the world would not guarantee the return of any European army which should have the temerity to trust itself on the main land within the borders of the United States.

New York city has no direct interest in this question. The removal of the capital can not affect our commercial prosperity to any appreciable extent, even were New York the point selected; and this out of the question, as we, at least, could not be induced to part with our sovereignty over our own affairs. We don't want to be governed by Congress, and hence what we have to say on this question may be regarded as impartial. The interests of the people at large would be seriously jeopardized by any change in the location of the capital, now or hereafter. Magnificent and commodious buildings have already been constructed for the accommodation of every branch of the Government at Washington, at a cost of at least a hundred millions of dollars. These building could not be removed or rebuilt elsewhere for twice that sum. Elegant hotels, lodging houses, and gambling houses, are found in abundance; the climate is mild and salubrious; and what is better than all, Washington can never become a great commercial or manufacturing center, and this is its strongest recommendation.

No people having a republican or representative form of government can afford, with the present state of human society, to place its executive, judicial, and legislative power where it will be unduly subjected to the pressure of great commercial interests, or endangered by the presence of what, under the instigation of want, misery, or political intrigue, may become an uncontrollable mob. Who will deny that the Government, if located in this city, might have been overthrown during the great draft riot of 1863, either by the mob, or by the rebels after the army had been withdrawn to New York to suppress the riots?

It is probable that the removal of the capital to St. Louis, Chicago, or Cincinnati would at once give to either of those places such an impetus in growth and trade, and such an advantage over its neighbors, as to make it the greatest of our internal cities. No other Western town would have any advantage over Washington in point of accommodations for Congressmen and transient visitors. Judging from the police reports, either of those places will not compare favorably with New York in the quantity and quality of crime; or in other terms, with the elements which go to make up the mob. The demoralizing influences of the national capital would rapidly bring it up to the highest mark in this respect.

It would be well for the country not to lose sight of these considerations. There are enough corrupt influences already at work upon the Government, notwithstanding the inaccessibility of Washington and its alleged deficiency in hotels, lodging-houses, and aristocratic society. Rome controlled the empire, Paris controls France, London controls England. Let it never be said that the Federal capital controls America.

Mackeral Fishing on the Pacific Coast.

[From the San Francisco Bulletin.]

The large quantity of mackeral imported from the East and sold in this market suggests the inquiry: Are there not mackeral on our own coast as good as those of the East, and in sufficient quantity to supply the demand?

It is well known that there are abundance of mackeral, at all seasons of the year, in the waters surrounding the islands of the Santa Barbara channel, and their quality is equal to any imported. But although mackeral can be got there in abundance all the year round, there is a season for them as well as for other things. The months for taking them in the largest quantities, and curing them to the best advantage, are June, July and August. During these months enough, both as to quantity and quality, can be got to meet all the wants of this market. Salt of the best quality for curing can be got, free, from the neighboring salt water lagoons, at little trouble and trifling expense. Facilities for curing in these islands will be willingly afforded, on the same terms, by the Government and local proprietors.

In 1855, a few San Francisco fishermen went there with a small schooner, and soon filled her with mackeral; but in place of taking out the intestines and soaking them in salt-water to clean them of blood before salting, they threw them into salt without cleaning, and, as a matter of course, they were partially spoiled when they arrived here, and created a prejudice against the business.

But an experienced captain, who ran on this coast in 1858, understood the curing and packing. He put up 100 barrels of mackeral at Santa Barbara, of the quality known to the trade as No. 2, which he sold in this market for $16 per barrel. They were caught late in September, and were consequently, rather poor; had they been taken in June, July, or August, they would have been in condition to have been classed as No. 1.

The rude experiment of the fishermen in not knowing how to cure the fish, and the experienced captain's successful trial, though a month or six weeks too late in the season, meets the objections of the writer in the Overland Monthly of February. If mackeral are caught before June, and after August, they are too poor to cure to advantage, and deserve the name of what that writer calls "leather bellies." And if they are not cured as described—cleaned and washed in salt water immediately after being caught, and before salting—they will spoil, and, as that writer says, become partially "poisonous," or at least inferior food.

But with the necessary experience, skill and judgment on the part of the fishermen, and the encouragement, enterprise and outlay on the part of all interested in the trade and in the development of one of our home industries, there are mackeral on our coast, of the best quality, to supply all the wants of our city and State.

France, England and her colonies are doing great things to cultivate and develop the coast and deep sea fishing of their respective countries; so should we on this coast.

We think we have given facts sufficient to account for the partial failure of the small experiment, and reliable statements to encourage and stimulate others to try again and succeed. Hundreds of small schooners and fishermen could be employed for months every year during the mackerel season, with great advantage to all parties interested.

The fishermen of Australia do not abandon their lucrative fishing for salmon-trout and other fish in the Bay of Melbourne and along the coast of the Colony of Victoria because a few careless hands occasionally expose their fish to the influence of a full moon, rendering all such fish poisonous and dangerous to life. How much less should we longer neglect a similar calling, and equally profitable, because of the incompetent or inexperience of one or two trials for mackerel on our coast?

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE ON JERRY BLACK.—Jerry Black, a member of President Buchanan's Cabinet, published, a short time ago, a rejoinder to an article written some time since by Hon. Henry Wilson, and published in the Atlantic Monthly, on the life and services of the late Secretary Stanton. Black endeavored to detract, as a matter of course, from the memory of the great War Minister. The Tribune thus touches Black: "The burden of his argument is, that Mr. Stanton's course, while he was a Democrat, was not consistent with his course after he became a Republican, and that no man ever changes his political relations and friendships except 'for good and sufficient considerations thereunto moving,' i. e., for a bribe. The fact that Mr. Stanton, after six years' exercise of the greatest powers ever put forth by a War Minister, died from overwork and in poverty, is a sufficient answer to the vulgar slanders of one who lacks even the intellect to perceive how great an honor it is to so small a man as Jerry Black, that he was once succeeded in office by such a man as Stanton. He ought to feel the same pride over the incident as the insect that crosses the field of Lord Rosse's telescope, when the next object to follow him is the planet Jupiter."

SATURDAY MORNING JUNE 18 1870

Blessings in Store

As the blessings of Democratic rule are to be ours for the next two years in this State it is proper to inquire what blessings we are to get. It is a fitting time [illegible] all the promises that have been made by those who are to rule us. Another reminder may be necessary when they take the reins of government in order that these promises may not be ignored or forgotten.

First, that terrible enemy of the white man, that dangerous rival of the superior race, the Chinaman, is to be utterly extinguished. He shall not be allowed to work unless white men can get his wages, and he shall be taxed and taxed till he can neither stay in the State nor have the means of leaving it, and till all the public vaults are plethoric with money and the superior race is relieved from the necessity of paying any taxes at all.

Second, men who have heretofore been classed as laborers are to be happy. The Democratic millenium is to be with them a perpetual holiday. They are to be relieved from the burdens of labor, and those of them who are of a convivial nature are to be at liberty to spend their time around corner groceries, beverages free. For the Democratic leaders have like Cade "vowed reformation," and like him have decreed that "seven half penny loaves shall be sold for a penny; that the three-hooped pot shall have ten hoops; and that all the realm shall be in common." In short the poor man is now to have his day and "bloated wealth" is to be made to disgorge.

Third, the tyrannical course of the Federal Government is to be checked. The public debt is to be "equitably adjusted," and the necessity of further taxation (except taxation of the almond-eyed heathen from Asia) is to be removed. The people are to have liberty. They pine for liberty. Liberty is faith, liberty is honor. The people are to have good beef, and bread to eat. This is what a Democratic victory means.

Fourth, the luxury of political discussions of the old sort is to be freely indulged and fully enjoyed. The resolutions of '98 are to be exhumed, and all the dear old Democratic traditions which have lain dormant for years are to be revived. The pernicious teachings of Radicalism are to be counteracted, and especially the corrupting and enslaving Radical dogma that it is man's lot and duty to work for a living, is to be put down.

These are some of the principal "blessings" that have been promised us. And now we are to have a trial of them for two years, at the end of which time the chances are that the Radicals will carry the State again and the liberties of the people will again be engulfed. We wait for September when the said "blessings" are to begin to fall like the gentle dews of heaven.

Making Debts Pay Themselves

A very brilliant thing was attempted in Congress the other day. Mr. Beck of Kentucky proposed that the Government should raise a revenue by taxing its own bonds and thus provide for paying the national debt. The philosophy of this idea is of a piece with that which is said on a certain occasion to have led an individual to attempt to lift himself over a fence by his boot straps. Most of Mr. Beck's Democratic friends came to his assistance and urged the adoption of the proposition. Butler of Massachusetts, who is always ready for visionary schemes, joined them. At last a plan had been hit upon which would pay the national debt without the inconvenience of general taxation. Just let the Government tax its bonds a certain amount each year and keep it up, and the thing would be done. Suppose two per cent. of the debt were thus taxed out of existence each year, is it not plain that the whole could be liquidated in a comparatively brief space of time? It would indeed be an easy method of liquidation. But the House failed to appreciate this stroke of financial statesmanship, and by a large majority rejected the proposition. It was substantially a party vote, though a few of the Democrats voted with the Republicans and a few of the Republicans voted with the Democrats.

It is strange indeed that a proposition of this kind should ever be made, and stranger still that it should be seriously entertained. If it were the purpose to tax the bonds in the hands of present holders, of course the act would be repudiation to the extent of the tax levied. If it were the purpose to get a new loan, a tax on the bonds would increase the interest by just the amount of tax to be collected. We pay six per cent now, and our bonds are about at par with gold. If we should propose a new loan in order to fund the debt on another basis, and at the same time propose a tax of two per cent. on the bonds, the least figure at which we could get the loan taken would be eight per cent. Thus in order to enjoy the luxury of taxing the "bloated bondholder" two per cent per annum we should have to pay an additional two per cent interest. And how much would the Government make by the transaction? Every farthing it would collect in taxes by such a process it would be forced to pay back in the shape of interest. A man has never yet been able to get rich by changing his money from one pocket to another. Nor has a Government ever yet been able to legislate so as to make its debts pay themselves.

The second volume of the "War Between the States," by Alexander H. Stephens, is announced and will soon be ready for delivery by A. L. Bancroft & Co. of San Francisco. In this work the Southern or State Sovereignty view of the late civil war is presented. Viewed from a national standpoint the title of the book is itself a misnomer, as the war was in no sense a war between the States, but on the one hand an assault by certain States on national authority and on the other a contest for national unity and national supremacy. But Mr. Stephens has undertaken to present the philosophy of the struggle from the State Sovereignty standpoint and his second volume like his first will no doubt be extensively called for. The American people have fully decided that the United States constitute a nation and they read a book like this not for instruction but with a desire to see the best thing that can be said on the wrong side of a subject that once possessed more interest than any other ever agitated in America.

An industrial exposition of manufactures, products and arts will be held in Cincinnati, commencing on the 21st September and ending on the 15th October next. Contributions of works of art and ingenuity for the exhibition are invited from every quarter, and artists, manufacturers and inventors throughout the whole country are invited to participate.

The Authority for It

We have it direct from such papers as the Oregon Herald that the recent act of Congress to enforce the fifteenth amendment and to prevent frauds in Congressional and Presidential elections is a most unwarrantable and outrageous attack on the liberties of the people. The said act is characterized as unconstitutional, as an invasion of the rights of the States and all that sort of thing, and all the threadbare phrases about usurpation, centralization [illegible] are pressed into service and made to do duty again in order that this last crowning act of infamy may be shown up in its true colors.

Denunciations of a law designed simply to provide for honest elections would be surprising if they came from any other source, but coming from that quarter they are quite what is expected. This law, like other laws, will be a terror only to evil doers. It will harm no one who is not attempting fraud. Then what is the objection to it? The warrant for it is in the Constitution—the Constitution as it was. "The times, places and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof, but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the place of choosing Senators." This is the authority for that part of the act to which most objection is made, and a clearer instance of constitutional authority cannot be cited.

Sweet are the uses of adversity. Repeated defeats have taught even the Democrats of Ohio a valuable lesson. The platform adopted by them at their late State Convention is formidable in length and fierce in tone, but it contains not a word in regard to the payment of the debt in greenbacks. Ohio is the State of Pendleton, and this abandonment of Pendleton's "great doctrine" is a fact of remarkable significance. While the Democrats of Oregon were making a fight for repudiation the Democrats of Ohio who have been drubbed into honesty were forsaking even the greenback theory of payment and giving up the fight against the national credit. They who started the proposition to pay the debts of the Government in depreciated promises to pay, have virtually disowned the doctrine and will recognize it no more. And before another election in Oregon we shall have such an influx of the better sort of people as will place our State right on the record and crush the repudiators.

The Democratic press of California is almost universally of opinion that the result of the Oregon election, while it lets Senator Williams out, will let ex-Senator Nesmith in. Ridiculous. Mr. Nesmith has no chance at all. The dominant party in the Legislature will not think of him, or if they do think of him it will be because of his obtrusion of himself upon their notice and the return he will get will be their contempt.

More than 30,000 emigrants from Europe landed at New York during the month of May. These deluded people are coming to settle in a country where liberty is being rapidly trampled out and where taxes are terribly oppressive and where poor people are subjected to the most galling burdens and where tyrants and despots bear rule and—for further particulars see the Democratic newspapers of the day.

The San Francisco Chronicle has an article on the "lost trade of Montana, Idaho and Utah," and delivers a round lecture on the subject for the benefit of the sleepy merchants and business men of San Francisco who have allowed and are still allowing the superior enterprise of Chicago and St. Louis to circumvent them.

In the modified income tax the exemption for house rent is limited to $500 per annum. This limitation was necessary, as experience has shown in order to prevent rich people from returning enormous house rents, to be deducted from their incomes, and thus escaping taxation altogether.

Religious Intelligence

BISHOP KEMPER

The Milwaukie News gives the following account of the life and labors of the venerable Bishop of Wisconsin, of the Episcopal Church, recently deceased, in the eighty first year of his age:

Bishop Kemper was born the 24th of December, Christmas Eve, 1789, in New Jersey. He was brought up in the city of New York and was educated at Columbia College in that city. He was ordained deacon in 1809 and went immediately to Philadelphia, where he served in the ministry as an assistant minister to Bishop White and especially in charge of St. James Church. At that time Christ Church, St. Peter's and St. James, Philadelphia, were associate churches under the rectorship of Bishop White, first Bishop of Pennsylvania.

Bishop Kemper was consecrated Missionary Bishop of the Northwest in the year 1835 by the venerable Bishop White—one of the last consecrations at which he presided.

He was the first Missionary Bishop of the Episcopal Church in the United States. The territory committed to his charge was of course for the most part at that time a vast wilderness with scarcely a clergyman or a church building.

His first labors were chiefly in Indiana and Missouri. He was for several years rector of Christ church, St. Louis, and founded Kemper College near that city. Out of the Episcopal jurisdiction originally committed to him there have been eight Dioceses organized, viz: Missouri, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, California, Nebraska and Kansas—besides four missionary jurisdictions now under charge of Missionary Bishops of the Episcopal Church.

Bishop Kemper was first elected Bishop of Wisconsin at its Primary Diocesan Convention in 1847, but having declined he was elected a second time by the Diocesan Convention of 1856, which election he accepted and became Bishop of Wisconsin.

In 1860 he resigned all charge as Missionary Bishop since which time he has confined his labors exclusively to his own Diocese.

Since 1835 he has been a constant resident of the northwest, if he could be said to have a residence who was so constantly from home. He was often called "The Apostle of the North West," and surely no man since the days of St. Paul was more worthy of being called an Apostle. He was indeed an Apostle who never spared himself but who considered it his special call to preach the gospel to the heathen everywhere through the length and breadth of his immense field. In the early days traveling in all kinds of conveyances and putting up with the rudest kinds of accommodations, in journeys as lengthy and with no less of peril save that of persecution than those of St. Paul, the late venerable Bishop Kemper since the year 1835 has been the indefatigable Missionary to every town and almost every settlement in the vast territories between the Ohio river and the sources of the Mississippi.

Increasing years seemed only to increase his zeal and diligence. With the face of an angel beaming with love to God and man the dear old Bishop has been an object of reverence to all. Of Bishop Kemper it may be truly said he was a gentle man and a Christian—he was both to an eminent degree. The dear old man will be missed by many, for his heart was tender and his benevolence boundless. In a ripe old age and full of labor a truly great man is taken from us—not only great historically which he certainly will be but great in those virtues which go to make the truly great man, viz: honor, integrity, zeal and benevolence. Surely in all these these united Kemper was the great as well as the good man.

Bishop Kemper is succeeded by Rt. Rev. W. E. Armitage, D. D., for several years past the Assistant Bishop of the Diocese of Wisconsin.

A correspondent writing from St. Albans, Vermont, says that the scene of the late "engagement" of the Fenians near that lovely village is a new attraction for summer tourists.

OREGON

A large number of green hides are being transported from Baker county to the Columbia river on the way to tanneries in western Oregon.

A contract for erecting a building for the Masonic fraternity at Roseburg has been awarded and the building will be commenced immediately.

The Roseburg Ensign says the only faithful Indian not taxed [illegible] in Douglas county voted the Democratic ticket straight. Of course.

Farmers of Yamhill county are discussing the project of forming an agricultural society and purchasing grounds near McMinnville for use as a site for county fairs.

The Weiser river in Idaho, near the eastern State line, is the Gretna Green to which the frantic lovers of Baker and Union counties fly to reach the joys of matrimony.

A company has been incorporated in Jackson county with $100,000 capital, to construct a mining, milling and irrigating ditch from Applegate creek to Jacksonville.

It would appear by the following from the Salem paper that voting twice in an election is considered a very trifling offence in Marion county. The examination before J. Q. Wilson, J. P., of J. Gonusky on a charge of falsely swearing in a vote on election day elicited a great deal of public interest. The Council Chamber was crowded during the whole day. Messrs. Hayden, Bonham and Williams were retained for the defence and Mr. Mallory assisted Mr. Thompson in the prosecution. A motion to dismiss occupied two hours in the argument and was overruled. After dinner a motion for a change of venue was argued long and loud and overruled. Then a dozen questions of technicalities were raised which gave all the candidates abundant opportunity for eloquence. The testimony went to show that the defendant voted at Aurora for the State and District ticket and at Salem for the District and county ticket, thus voting twice for [illegible] and Butler. The defense was that it was done by mistake. We presume that the Justice gave prisoner the benefit of the doubt, for he was finally discharged.

THE WEST

There has been $130,000 coined at the Mint at Carson up to date.

The Owyhee Avalanche reports a scarcity of laborers in that camp at present. From 60 to 100 men could find employment.

A flock of sheep recently broke into a wheat field near Stockton (Cal.) and ate immoderately of green feed. The whole flock died.

A crusade against the squirrels has been inaugurated in Contra Costa county, Cal. One man named Welch has already killed over 5,000 of them.

The vote of Owyhee county, Idaho, in the election was only [illegible], a decrease of more than one half as compared with the vote in former elections. A portion of both tickets is elected. Heretofore the county has been heavily Democratic.

This is the age of hotels. The completion of the Grand Hotel in San Francisco is an event in the history of California, and now we hear that Chicago will shortly erect a magnificent hotel building to cost 2,000,000. Hotel living is evidently becoming popular.

A California paper says that many persons in Australia are desiring to come to our Pacific States with a view of making permanent settlements. The establishment of steam communication between Australia and San Francisco it is expected will result in bringing over large numbers.

Cattle are coming into San Francisco from almost every mountain ward quarter. Some 220 head recently arrived via railroad from Idaho. Another and still larger band is en route from the same locality, if they have not already arrived. The C. P. R. R. Co. have built a large corrall near the freight depot at Winnemucca, Humbolt county, for the more convenient keeping and loading of cattle on the cars. Heretofore cattle reaching the line of the road near that point have been driven fifty miles along the road to reach a convenient point of shipment.

The Convicts Retaken

The Statesman of Thursday has the following account of the recapture of the convicts who escaped from the Penitentiary last week:

Yesterday afternoon we received news that the five escaped convicts had been seen near Jefferson, and a few minutes later a wagon drove into town, conveying them back to the Penitentiary. J. N. Reynolds and Robert Leadbetter had been on the hunt of them since Sunday. They could get trace enough to keep near them but not enough to discover their whereabouts. Tuesday night Reynolds and Leadbetter stopped at a ferry some distance above Jefferson, and in the night the convicts came to Jefferson. They entered the store of Mr. Thomas and made out suits of clothing, having already secured some articles of apparel at different places. They then took a skiff and crossed the river, and in doing so were seen by some of Mr. Cusson's family. In the morning Mr. D. H. Van Buren and Mr. Coke crossed the river and took their track. After going some distance they concluded to get help, and Mr. C. started for Albany, Mr. Van Buren coming back toward town. In the meantime Reynolds and Leadbetter came to Jefferson and they with Hugh Rankin and Warren Johnson met Van Buren returning. The five men now took the track, following it easily through the wet grass and ground, until about ten o'clock they saw a smoke close to them, on the bank of the river. Carefully surrounding the spot they crept up and the first intimation the fugitives had of danger was an order to hold up their hands, enforced by the muzzles of shot guns and revolvers. They quietly submitted to be bound and were then marched away to Jefferson. They had captured a large pan of milk and carried it a mile and a half and had tea and ham. One of them was asleep and did not awake until the others were bound. While getting dinner at Jefferson the citizens got up and extensively signed a petition to Major Barry stating that the fugitives had molested no one, had taken nothing but what they actually needed, and requesting that they should not be punished severely. The five men who made the arrest divide the $1,000 between them—a good day's work, but our neighbors Leadbetter and Reynolds are entitled to the approbation of the community for the patience and perseverance with which they have worked up the pursuit and we think their share little enough and fairly earned.

Mr. Richard Rush in his Report as Secretary of the Treasury, Dec 36 1828, says: "The increased consumption of foreign articles in the United States during the last four years, as compared with the four that preceded, may, it is believed, be ascribed, in no inconsiderable degree, to the advances which our Home Labor has been making in various ways since 1824. The creation and subdivision of Home Labor must bring new wealth to this country as they ever have to other countries, and with it an increased ability to buy articles of all kinds. * * All plans of finance that do not take the co-operating prosperity of these three primary interests (Agriculture, Manufactures and Commerce) of the State as their foundation must prove fallacious or shortlived." Such were the counsels of a [illegible] statesman whose name peculiarly lives in the records of the department who was first placed at its head, directing its operations with a force next to Hamilton's [illegible] over the path of his successors. His comprehensive genius, looking into futurity, saw the truth that the protection and increase of manufacturing labor, far from stopping the springs of our commerce, always would but multiply and diffuse it.

THE LIVING WONDERS. With several gentlemen connected with the press we called by invitation yesterday upon Miss Anna Swan the French [illegible] Commodore [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] We find that the representations of the business agent, Mr. Adams, are not exaggerations. They are indeed a quartette of wonderful people. Think of standing by a lady who can hold her arm at right angles with her body and pass it easily and clear over the head of a six foot man. That's what Miss Swan can do. She is certainly a most wonderful woman. [illegible] very tall women she is graceful, well proportioned and of good carriage. She converses intelligently and very affably. It is not probable that many now living in this city have ever seen or will ever see again so tall a woman. Mons. Joseph stands about 8 feet, straight as an arrow, well proportioned, muscular, without an ounce of surplus flesh or fat, is of very pleasing presence, converses in a lively vein, rather vergings upon [illegible] and [illegible] altogether as jolly a fellow as you will find in a day's journey. Major Green is a trifle taller than Commodore Nutt but not so heavy, and is of much more perfect proportions. He is a lively little gentleman, born of Virginia parents, of quick intelligence and with the manners of a thorough man of the world. In consequence of the indisposition of Miss Lott the Circassian beauty the party did not call upon her. All four of them may be seen at Armory Hall to-day and this evening.

MONEY ORDERS. The Portland Postoffice has been a money order office since February, 1865, but has been a 1st class office only for three or four months. The following is a statement of the business transacted by the money order department from February 15, 1865 to June 15, 1870.

From Feb 15 [illegible] to March 15, 1869 (period of nearly four years) when Mr. Wakefield took [illegible] the number of orders issued was 3,[illegible]

From March 5 1869 to June 15 1870, (period of fifteen months) the number of orders issued was 2,585.

Amount of orders for this period $93,690 88.

Amount of fees for the same $534 40.

Amount of orders drawn on this office and paid during same time $ [illegible]

Amount furnished other Postoffices since March 23d 1870 to enable them to pay money orders promptly when their funds on hand were insufficient, $5,405.

Total transactions $160,314 [illegible]

The funds accruing above a sufficient reserve are remitted to California by every steamer and the accounts are balanced and closed every Saturday night. An exact record of every order issued and of every advice received and paid has to be kept in the office, and a copy furnished the Department at Washington. Some idea will be obtained from the above of the immense amount of work performed by Mr. Wakefield and his deputies.

Brother Turner will hold a camp meeting near Centerville on the Hillsboro Circuit to commence on Thursday before the [illegible] day of July. He will be assisted by the Presiding Elder and others. Preachers and people are invited to attend.

MRS. LAYLE'S BENEFIT. As is always the case when Mrs. Bates comes before our public for a favor the theater was filled last night on the occasion of her benefit. "The Day after the Wedding" and "Aladdin" were the pieces presented, in both of which the beneficiary took leading parts. She gave the audience in the first piece a touch of her old character, and the power as a dramatist. In the latter the character she personated is far out of her best line, but she was nevertheless very successful and creating [illegible] Aladdin is an extravaganza even [illegible] to spectators and laughable [illegible]

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 18, 1870.

CITY.

AN INGENIOUS AND DARING ROBBERY.—Thursday night some daring scoundrel perpetrated a robbery at the saloon of Mr. Wm. Wetsel, and the store rooms of Mr. A. H. Johnson, which shows the fellow possessed of some cool ingenuity and, withal, some of that "rascally virtue called patience." A thorough inspection of the premises shows that he could not have forced his way into the building from the outside, but must have been in the house when it was shut up for the night. He unquestionably stepped into the back room from the saloon during the evening and remained there till the saloon was closed. The indications are that he hid himself in one of the [illegible] standing in the store room, and used during the packing season for salting down meat. [illegible] are visible in the coating of salt on the [illegible] of the tank. After the saloon was closed for the night, he went through a trunk belonging to Mr. Wetsel's barkeeper, getting about $80 in [illegible]. He helped himself to a bottle of ale, broke [illegible] off, drank the ale and left the bottle. He [illegible] an exit by way of a back door by removing [illegible], which he stood up in a corner, and removing a board prop. On the rear platform between the building and the P. T. Co.'s wharf he found [illegible] sacks lying on the floor, three of which he took into the store room where a lot of [illegible] hams were hanging. He filled [illegible] the sacks with hams, leaving the third on [illegible], and then retired with his booty through the door which opens on A street near the P. T. Co.'s warehouse, and made off, apparently by [illegible] of a boat at the stairs leading down from [illegible] to the lower dock floor. As near as can be ascertained he got about a dozen hams, which added to the eighty dollars, coin, constituted a pretty good haul.

THE "LIVING WONDERS."—With several gentlemen connected with the press, we called by invitation yesterday, upon Miss Anna Swan, the Nova Scotia Giantess, Mons. Joseph, the French Giant, Major Green, the American dwarf, [illegible] the Circassian girl, Miss Luti, are [illegible] the "great living wonders." We find that [illegible] of the business agent, Mr. [illegible], are not exaggerations. They are, indeed, a trio of wonderful people. Think of standing by a lady who can hold her arm at right angles with her body and pass it easily and clear over the head of a six foot man! That's what Miss Swan can do. She is certainly a most wonderful woman. Unlike most very tall women she [illegible], well proportioned and of good carriage, [illegible] intelligently and very affably. It is not probable that many now living in [illegible] have ever seen or will ever see again so [illegible]. Mons. Joseph stands about 8 feet, straight as an arrow, well proportioned, muscular, no ounce of surplus flesh or fat; is of [illegible], converses in a lively vein, [illegible] with wit and facetiæ and is altogether a "fellow well met" as you will [illegible] journey. Major Green is a trifle [illegible] Commodore Nutt, but not so heavy, and much more perfect proportions. He is [illegible] gentleman, born of Virginia parents, [illegible], and with the manners of a man of the world. In consequence of [illegible] of Miss Luti, the Circassian [illegible] did not call upon her. All four [illegible] at Armory Hall to-day and [illegible].

[illegible]—The Portland Postoffice has [illegible] office since February, 1865; [illegible] 1st class office only for three or [illegible]. The following is a statement of the [illegible] by the money order department [illegible] May 15, 1865 to June 15, 1870. [illegible] 1865, to March 15, 1869 (period [illegible]), when Mr. Wakefield took [illegible] number of orders issued was 8,- [illegible] 15, 1869, to June 15, 1870, (period [illegible]) the number of orders issued was [illegible] orders for this period $93,699 88. [illegible] for the same $534 40. [illegible] orders drawn on this office and paid [illegible] $59,634 48. [illegible] other Postoffices since March [illegible] to enable them to pay money orders [illegible] their funds on hand were insufficient [illegible] $166,314 76. [illegible] above a sufficient reserve, [illegible] to California by every steamer, and [illegible] balanced and closed every Saturday night. A perfect record of every order [illegible] and of every advice received and paid has been kept in the office, and a copy furnished the [illegible] at Washington. Some idea will be [illegible] from the above of the immense amount [illegible] by Mr. Wakefield and his deputies.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.—From the Christian Advocate: [illegible] Wilbur will preach at the Congregational Church at 11 o'clock to-morrow (Sabbath). [illegible] Association commenced its [illegible] at Corvallis, on Thursday last. [illegible] will hold a camp-meeting on [illegible] Valley camp-ground, to commence on [illegible] the 3d Sabbath of July. [illegible] will hold a camp-meeting on the [illegible] camp-ground, to commence the [illegible] before the fourth Sabbath of July. [illegible] M. E. Church—Corner of Hall and [illegible] streets. Sabbath School at 9½ A. M. [illegible] at 11 o'clock A. M., and at 7½ P. M. [illegible], Pastor. [illegible] Taylor street M. E. Church, [illegible] and Third streets. Sunday [illegible] at 11 o'clock. Sabbath School at [illegible] Evening service at 7½ o'clock. Rev. [illegible], Pastor. [illegible] will hold a camp-meeting near [illegible] on the Hillsboro Circuit, to commence [illegible] 29th day of July. He will be [illegible] the Presiding Elder and others. [illegible] people are invited to attend.

[illegible] BENEFIT.—As is always the case [illegible] comes before our public for a [illegible] was filled last night, on the occasion [illegible]. The Day after the Wedding [illegible] the pieces presented, in both of which [illegible] took leading parts. She [illegible] in the first piece a touch of her [illegible] power as a dramatist. In the [illegible] she personated is far out of [illegible] but she was, nevertheless, very [illegible] and pleasing in it. Alladin is an extravaganza, even more extravagant and laughable than the Invisible Prince, and everybody in the [illegible] extravagant and ridiculous and laughter-provoking as could be desired. The [illegible] hit in the play, however, was made by [illegible] in the character of Widow Twankay, [illegible] certainly came out strong. Vinson [illegible] highly burlesque Sultan, frequently [illegible] the house with laughter. Miss Annie Pixley was a charming Pekoe, and Miss Minnie [illegible] the Princess with excellent success. Aladdin will be performed again to-night, when Mrs. Bates will make her last appearance for the season.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—Friday, June 17. State of Oregon vs Wm. Spence, Thos. Trainor and Chas. Ingalls; plea of not guilty entered. State of Oregon vs Ah Sang, Yik Gun and [illegible]; 1st indictment; given till to-morrow to plead. Same parties—2d indictment—given till to-morrow to plead. State of Oregon vs Sam'l Nevil; defendant discharged. [illegible] Frankman et al, vs Chas. Goodnough; [illegible] for plaintiff, $764 77. State of Oregon vs Wm. Maroney; the order [illegible] of bail heretofore entered, set aside, [illegible] arraigned and given till to-morrow to plead. [illegible] Briney vs L. M. Starr; most of the day [illegible] in the examination of witnesses; [illegible] of testimony concluded; argument set for to-morrow. Court adjourned till 9 o'clock A. M., Saturday.

PLAZA MATINEE.—Programme 23d Infantry Band, for Saturday, June 18, 7 o'clock P. M.:

1. The 14th N. Y. National Guard Quickstep.
2. St. Louis Polka.
3. The Heart Bowed Down, "Bohemian Girl"—Balfe.
4. Quadrille, from La Belle Helene.—Offenbach.
5. The Coronation March, from Le Prophete.—Meyerbeer.
6. Saratoga Waltzes.
7. Oh! where my love lies dreaming.
8. Helter Skelter Galop.

The Unitarian Church holds a service to-morrow at 11 A. M.; also a communion service at 6. [illegible] service is omitted. During the absence of the Pastor the Sunday School is continued [illegible] from time to time there will be lay services as may be given notice of [illegible]

SABBATH SCHOOL FLORAL FESTIVAL AND EXHIBITION.—The Advocate says: The Committee in charge of the Sabbath School Exhibition at the First M. E. Church, announces the following Exercises, to commence at 8 P. M. next Wednesday evening:

Part 1st—Singing; Declamation by Eddie Northrup "The Ninety Motto Makers A Floral Piece, introducing about 90 children; Singing; Intermission thirty minutes.

Part 2d—Singing—"The Motto Bearers, by a class of eleven; Readings by Master Georgie De Vore, Singing, by Willie Anderson; Intermission thirty minutes.

Part 3d—Singing—"Auction," by a class of nine—250,000,000 Children to be sold; Singing.

Ice Cream and Refreshments may be had in the Infant Class Room during intermission.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.—The barks Live Yankee and H. C. Reese are at Astoria, loaded with lumber, ready to go to sea; destination, San Francisco.

The steamer California brought up fifteen bags of mail matter.

Chief Engineer Holman received by the steamer a new and elegant Fireman's Hat, manufactured to order at New York. It is on exhibition at Ned Wicks' saloon.

A team attached to a load of railroad iron, backed off the bridge at East Portland, yesterday, into ten feet water. The team was rescued, but the wagon and iron are still at the bottom.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY.—The annual examination of the scholars of the Sisters of Jesus and Mary, at St. Mary's Academy, will take place says the Sentinel, on the 23d, 24th and 27 inst., from 9 o'clock A. M., till noon, and from 1 till 5 o'clock P. M. The exhibition, to which only ticket holders are admitted, will take place on the 28th, commencing at 2 o'clock P. M. In this connection we learn that the examination and exhibition of the pupils of St. Mary's Academy, in Salem, conducted by the same religious order, will commence on the 23th inst.

ORO FINO THEATRE.—For the matinee this afternoon, Box and Cox and The Invisible Prince are announced. In the interlude, a song and dance by Misses Annie and Minnie Pixley. In the evening the last appearance of Mrs. Bates in Caste (for the last time), and the laughable burlesque of Alladin; with song and dance by the Pixley Sisters. Next Monday evening, Colleen Bawn in which Miss Lizzie Ingalls will make her debut.

VANCOUVER SEMINARY—ANNUAL EXERCISES.—Rev Clark Smith, Principal of this school, announces that the annual examination of the classes in this Seminary will take place June 30th and July 1st. Address before the Literary Societies, by Rev. H. K. Hines. Exhibition and Graduating exercises, July 1st at 2 P. M. Annual meeting of the Board of Trustees, July 1st, at 2 P. M. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

BOLTERS.—Judge Trainor, of East Portland, published a card in which he speaks with severity of certain prominent Democrats, W. W. Thayer and Nat. H. Lane, who, he says, "bolted their ticket against me, and voted for a Republican in my place." We should think that a man who has stood unflinchingly by his party as Judge Trainor has done, has a right to feel aggrieved at such treatment.

SALE OF HOMESTEAD PROPERTY.—The sale, by Mr. A. B. Richardson, of lots in McMinnville, hitherto advertised to take place at McMinnville, on Tuesday, June 21st, has been postponed till Wednesday, June 29th, when it will take place at Mr. Richardson's sales rooms in this city. We call the attention of all interested to the new advertisement.

OREGON CENTRAL RAILROAD.—The Commercial says: "We have authority to state that the corps of civil engineers employed for the purpose have completed the survey and the estimate for the construction of the first twenty miles of the Oregon Central Railroad—from Portland to McMinnville and Astoria."

PORTLAND LIBRARY.—The following new books have been added to the Portland Library to day: Reminiscences of A. J. Hamilton; Life and Letters of Faraday, by Dr. Bruce Jones; Memorial Addresses of Wm. Pitt Fessenden; Scott's Poetical Works, and Patent Office Report, Vol. 1, 1863.

THE RIVER.—Telegrams to the Commercial, yesterday, state that at Umatilla the river fell about one inch the preceding night; at Wallula it fell, in same time, two inches, and at the Dalles five inches. The back water here has scarcely commenced yet to recede.

PERSONAL.—Dr. Carpenter, of Salem, who went to Washington to attend the National Medical Convention, as a Representative of the Willamette Medical College, returned by the last steamer. He was one of only two representatives from the Pacific coast.

REPUBLICAN CALL.—Republicans will notice the call for Ward meetings to be held to-day. Let there be a full attendance, and let good men be nominated.

INCLOSURE.—Mr. St. John is having a high board fence built around the U. S. court house block. We judge that it is to be only temporary.

CURRENT NOTES.

The Connecticut Fish Commissioners have contracted with Seth Green to put forty million salmon eggs in the Connecticut this season, and will also stock Farmington river.

Amasa Goodyear, of Naugatuck, Connecticut, father of "India rubber" Goodyear, is claimed as the first button maker in America. He made pewter buttons about 1800, and afterwards patented a brass or copper eye to them.

The Mobile Register calls Gen. Sherman "the gentleman who 'marched to the sea' with only raw militia and buttermilk cavalry on the way to prevent him." And yet the Register is a red-hot organ of "last ditch" Democracy.

A Southern paper, which is evidently quite sound, remarks that the Republican party is a living, active power, and unwilling to watch and wait, follows the leadings of its own bounding vitality in the passionate strength of the up-and-doing.

There has been some unpleasantness between the young men and young ladies of Oxford, Benton county, Indiana, and the ladies now march around the town accompanied by fife and drum, entirely independent of their masculine friends.

Anthony Froude concludes his history of the Reformation in England, by saying: "The worst legacy which princes or statesmen could leave a people would be a finished form of Government—one in which progress was neither desired or needed.

Only three of the newspapers of Illinois have taken position against the adoption of the new Constitution of that State, and two of them base their opposition on the ground that it recognizes the fifteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Very nice kid gloves can be bought in Paris, at retail, for two francs. The manufacturers of French kid gloves are in despair, they having overstocked the market for a long time to come, so that the prices, there is every reason to believe, will go still further down.

An immense antediluvian forest has been discovered near Pacific City, Iowa, about fourteen inches below the surface. The trees are all lying in one direction, their tops toward the west. They are black as jet, and capable of receiving a high polish. There seems to be an inexhaustible supply, as experiments for miles around reveal them to the search.

Miss Phoebe Cozzens is one of the shrewdest as well as handsomest of the advocates of Woman's Rights and Female Suffrage. She has her ready quotations from the Bible to meet objectors who rely upon that authority. For instance, she demonstrates that man's sphere, biblically laid down, is to do housework, and especially to "wash the dishes," by this scriptural allusion (see 2d Kings, xxi, 13)—"I will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish; wiping it, and turning it upside down."

An additional lot of those handsome suits worn by everybody, both heavy and light weight, was received by Kohn & Fishel, No. 91 Front street. They are equal to the best custom-made and pleasing to all men that wear them. They also received an extra fine lot of striped calico shirts and Star white shirt. Their stock in clothing is the largest and finest in Oregon and sold at extreme low prices.

The Wear and Tear of Business Life.

The cares and labors of business life are apt to tell severely upon the health and constitution of the ardent, energetic business man, and when the need of some sustaining agent is felt, stimulants that cause only a temporary exhilaration, and leave the system in a state of partial collapse when their first effect has passed off, are too often resorted to. As certainly as fire leaves behind it a residuum of ashes, the use of the adulterated liquors of commerce produces premature exhaustion and decay. Touch them not. Tone and regulate the overtaxed vital machinery with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. In that wholesome elixir, the alcoholic element, which is the purest derivable from any source, is tempered by the choicest tonic, aperient, anti-bilious and anti-febrile vegetable extracts and juices. To strengthen, recruit, solace and purify the system is the mission of the great vegetable specific. When the stomach is in a healthy state the bile flows regularly, the bowels perform their offices properly, and the telegraphic fibres of the nervous system are in perfect working order, an enormous amount of labor can be borne without labor or inconvenience, and the direct effect of the Bitters is to promote this vigorous condition of the functions upon which the nourishment of the body, and its power of endurance mainly depend. The great tonic and alterative is, therefore emphatically recommended for its remarkable strengthening properties, to all upon whom the responsibilities of life press heavily, and who feel like fainting under the burthen. A lively appetite, a splendid digestion, elastic spirits, and a marvellous ability to withstand fatigue, are among the blessings justly ascribed to the renovating operation of this palatable and powerful cordial, indeed there is nothing in the materia medica that can be compared with it.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Farm for Sale.

320 ACRES OF LAND, IN JACKSON COUNty, for sale or exchange for city property. It is in the suburbs of Gasburg. Gasburg, like the beaver, is all "terminus." The branch of the Central Pacific Railroad will intersect the Oregon and California road at Gasburg. The Oregon Central will run through it, as does the stage road now, and many a railroad as yet unthought of, will find its "terminus" in Gasburg. The warm and dry winters, the mild Italian summers, the gushing spring water at short intervals, the lofty peaks of the Cascades on the east, the Coast Range on the west, the broad and fertile valleys on the north and south, and last, but not least, the inexhaustible forests on every hand, make it naturally one of the finest "terminuses" that ever was attached onto the 'tother end of any railroad. Also a one-third interest in a water ditch and forty acres of mining lands, which have been worked for nine years and never failed to pay a dividend. Strawberries 5 cts. per pound; ONE MULE at 20 cts. per pound, and groceries in proportion.

UNITED STATES MAIL.
WASHINGTON & ALASKA
TERRITORIES.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT,
Washington, April 30, 1870.

PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED AT THE CONtract Office of this Department until 3 o'clock P. M. of Wednesday, June 8, 1870, (to be decided by the 30th), for carrying the mails of the United States from July 1, 1870, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to June 30, 1874, on the following route in the Territory of

WASHINGTON,

And by the schedule of departures and arrivals herein specified, viz:

15421 From Port Townsend, by San Juan, Fort Tongas, and Fort Wrangle, to Sitka, Alaska Territory, 900 miles and back, once a month, to suitable and safe steamboats.
Leave Port Townsend on the 1st of every month;
Arrive at Sitka on the 10th of the same month;
Leave Sitka on the 15th of every month;
Arrive at Port Townsend on the 22d of the same month.

Proposals to begin service at Portland, Oregon, instead of Port Townsend, 500 miles farther, invited. Also, for service twice a month.

Instructions,

Containing conditions to be incorporated in the contract to the extent the Department may deem proper:

The Special Agents of the Postoffice Department, on exhibition of their credentials, also Postoffice blanks, mail bags, locks and keys, are to be conveyed without charge.

The route agents of the Department, should it appoint them, to be conveyed without charge, and for their exclusive use while traveling with the mails, a commodious apartment is to be provided by the contractor, under the direction of the department.

No pay will be made for trips not performed; and for each of such omissions, not satisfactorily explained, three times the pay of the trip may be deducted. For arrivals so far behind time as to break connection with depending mails, and not satisfactorily excused, one-fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture. Deductions will also be ordered for a grade of performance inferior to that specified in the contract. For repeated delinquencies of the kind, enlarged penalties, proportioned to the nature thereof and importance of the mail may be made.

Fines will be imposed, unless the delinquency be promptly and satisfactorily explained by certificates of postmasters or the affidavits of other credible persons, for failing to arrive in contract time; for neglecting to take the mail from or deliver it into a postoffice; for suffering it to be wet, injured, destroyed, robbed or lost; and for refusing, after demand, to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs, or is concerned in running, a conveyance on the route.

The Postmaster General may annul the contract for repeated failures to run agreeably to contract, for violating the postoffice laws, or disobeying the instructions of the department.

The Postmaster General may order an increase of the service by allowing therefor a pro rata increase in the contract pay. He may change the schedule of departures and arrivals, provided that by so doing the running time be not abridged.

Each bid must be guaranteed by two responsible persons certified to be such by a postmaster or a judge of a court of record. The department reserves the right to reject any bid which may be deemed extravagant, and also to disregard the bids of failing contractors and bidders.

For forms of proposal, guarantee and certificate and also for other information as to the conditions to be embraced in the contract, &c. see advertisement of September 30, 1869, inviting proposals for mail service in California and Oregon, and Washington, to be found at the principal postoffices.

Bids should be sent in sealed envelopes, superscribed, "Mail Proposals, Route No. 15421, Washington Territory," and addressed to the Second Assistant Postmaster General.

Letter About Oregon.

The following letter written from this city, by O. S. Phelps, appeared in the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser of June 2.

PORTLAND, Oregon, May 16, 1870.

This whole Pacific coast is so teetotally different from the Atlantic coast, that every new-comer is now both amazed and disappointed, some agreeably and others disagreeably. And the people here, too, are unlike the rest of mankind, in more respects than one. We rate and reckon them thus: good, better, best; bad, worse, worst. They are a congregation of all nationalities. Greed for gold rushed them all Pacific-wards. But of the "millions" who have visited this coast since 1848, we may truthfully say that nine hundred out of every thousand were unsuccessful, and therefore disappointed. But notwithstanding this, I know of no better country than this for an enterprising new beginner or a poor man to settle in. And wherefore?

First. Because the fee simple of the soil is within the reach of every one, be he poor or rich, black or white. I read in "An Act to secure Homesteads to actual settlers on the public domain," the following: "That any person who is the head of a family, or who has arrived at the of twenty-one years, and is a citizen of the United States, or who shall have filed his declaration of intention to become such, as required by the naturalization laws of the United States, and who has never borne arms against the United States government, or given aid and comfort to its enemies, shall, from and after the first of January, 1863, be entitled to enter one quarter section (160 acres,) or less quantity of unappropriated public lands, upon which said person may have filled filed a pre-emption claim," &c., &c. And by a residence and the cultivation of said 160 acres of land for the period of five years, and on the payment of ten dollars, he shall be entitled to a government patent thereof.

Second—Because Oregon is provided with a general and efficient system of common school instruction; the education of the children of the working classes being provided by levying a tax on all the taxable property in every county. Public schools, supported by the funds are established in all save the most sparsely settled localities; and private schools, academies, colleges, and seminaries are now also maintained.

Third—Because labor is more remunerative and better rewarded here than almost anywhere else; and besides, the country is alive with birds and beasts; the streams with fish; the forests with elk, deer, and other wild game. And in the Spring and Fall the air is literally filled with wild geese, pigeons, pheasants, &c.

Lastly—Because Oregon's mountains are among the highest, Oregon's hills the roughest, Oregon's valleys and prairies the rarest and richest, Oregon's flocks and herds, pigs and poultry the fairest and fatest, Oregon's grasses and grains, fruits and flowers, fish, rivers and creeks, climate and cold, summers and winters, days and nights, seed-time and harvest, all are of the very best.

As in all new countries, the emigrant here must expect to rough it and tough it, on the start at least; but, with due diligence, good management, and the blessing of God, prosperity will attend him.

We have tried Oregon now fourteen months, and the longer we live here the better we like her; and so with our family. True, we are occasionally troubled with a sickness popularly termed "nostalgia;" but I never read about, or heard of, any person dying thereof. We often long to tread the pavements of Buffalo, Lockport, and St. Catharines, and see familiar faces, and talk therein with old friends and loved ones. And we have had our dark days here; but, thank God they are now over.

The Democracy on Naturalization.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

The Democratic papers are not only unhappy but belligerent over the Naturalization law adopted by Congress, stigmatizing it as a gross outrage upon the rights of States, and, what touches them more nearly, a step that will overthrow the ascendency of their party. Carefully keeping out of sight the earliest provisions of the Constitution—that venerable document to which they so often appeal as being violated by the recent legislation—they seek to make the people believe that any interference with State action in the naturalization of aliens, is an act of atrocious usurpation. Let us suggest to these irate partisans a study of section eight of the First Article of the original Constitution—the section defining the powers of Congress. We copy.

SECTION 8. The Congress shall have power:

4. To establish a uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States.

17. To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any Department or officer thereof.

The naturalization of aliens by the State authority has been permitted only by Congress, just as many other acts have been permitted. But if States only have this power, then the logical deduction from the language of the whole section is that States only can declare war, maintain armies and navies, coin money, regulate commerce, establish post-offices, fix uniform bankrupt laws, and so on. These patrons of McCunn's naturalization mill know very well that they speak falsely when they say Congress has no power over the making of citizens. They attempt a petty deception that cannot affect any intelligent person, but hope to impress their blindfolded foreign-born voters with the idea that a Republican Congress is wreaking vengeance upon them for voting early and often for the Democracy. And they urgently ask: "Democrats of the Empire State, will you submit to these outrages?" We venture to answer, "They will; and every honest Democrat who has time and again found his vote neutralized by the fraudulent ballots of men who vote twice and thrice when they had not a shadow of right to vote at all, will sustain the law and rejoice in its existence." The gamblers in dead-men's naturalization papers, the McCunns and Tweeds who make our elections a farce, are naturally indignant, for they know that this is no waste-paper law, but that, with its accompanying election law, it will be carried out to the letter. They know that even if the worst of their followers are restricted to a single vote, the votes of honest men will largely outnumber them. The Belshazzar of Tammany sees the Handwriting on the Wall, and his knees grow weak; his kingdom, weighed in the balances and found wanting, is doomed.

GREAT MEMORY.—The Albany Evening Journal has lost its editor, Geo. W. Demers, who died at Troy, New York, on the morning of May 25th. He was a man of much ability, but chiefly renowned for his memory, which was wonderful for its power and retentiveness. The Journal says:

He often reported speeches and lectures with the most perfect verbal accuracy, from memory alone. Upon one occasion, Dr. Magoon, recently of this city, delivered a lecture in Troy on the Architecture of the Middle Ages. It was full of technical phrases and characteristic eccentricities; but it was published the next day in the exact words of the lecturer, to the astonishment of the Doctor, and to the wonder of all who knew the circumstances under which it was written out. Upon another occasion, the late Gov. Raymond delivered a speech in Troy which he desired reported. He took Mr. Underhill with him for that purpose. Mr. Demers heard the speech, but took no notes of it. The next morning he wrote in full, and Mr. Raymond adopted it in preference to the report of the stenographer. This faculty was of much assistance to him in his professional labor, and contributed greatly to the accuracy and interest of his editorials upon statistical and historical subjects.

The Montreal Witness says of the Fenian raid: "But for the shame of allowing our soil to be invaded, and the sufferings of the farmers who would be plundered by the invaders, it is generally thought, and we believe the military authorities have urged, that it would have been good policy to allow the Fenians to advance unmolested into the country, even as far as the St. Lawrence, if they chose, and then assemble a sufficient force around them, either to cut off their retreat or to pursue them with signal vengeance to the lines."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Legal Tenders 88½ [illegible]

Matters at New York.

We take the following from the Alta's (15th) New York letter, dated June 4:

"Although there are but two ships loading for your port, (San Francisco) the aggregate freight engagements is less than it was thirty days ago, and it seems to be growing less each week, while the indications are that the coming summer months will prove the dullest ever experienced in the California trade.

Rates of freight are firm for most all descriptions of freight; still there is some weakness shown, when shippers refuse to pay the rates demanded, and as the vessels are rather anxious to get off, the shippers generally gain a point, but not so easily as they did some weeks ago. The question of rates is still very unsettled. If two lines only continue in the trade (and there is only just about business for two lines), there is no doubt but the rates will hold firm; on the other hand if the two lines now without ships should secure them, the rates would again recede to a point that would prove unprofitable to both owner and agent.

Since my last the Ericsson has sailed, and I enclose statement of her cargo. Of the vessels to finish to get off this month, the Herald of the Morning is the most advanced, and will finish by the [illegible]. The Prima Donna, to follow in the same line, has about 1200 tons on board, but will not get away before the latter part of the month. The Helicon is announced for the 15th, and will no doubt be ready by that time. B. B. Sutton has no vessel to follow the Ericsson, but expects to have one in a day or two. The report that he has the Valley Forge is unfounded.

The offerings during the week include 250 bbls of Crushed Sugar, 100a200 cans Lard, 3000 bxs Soap, 5000 bxs Candles (Grant & Ropes), 1200 cans Oysters, and some Cement, etc. Of the class of goods going forward, Whisky is offered rather freely. Candles and Nails are moving in moderate lots, the season being nearly over. Canned Goods are going in fair lots, as is also Leaf Tobacco, Petroleum, Cement, Paper, Rope, etc.

Overland freights are a trifle more active than they were last week, but not so much so as they were before the late advance in rates, which has sent a large quantity of freight to the Isthmus route. In advancing the rates, the managers of the railroad made a great mistake, as the steamer rates were low and the season was approaching when there is more freight sent by the short route than at any other season of the year. This they have discovered, and they are now discussing the propriety of again reducing the rates, which will probably be done in the course of 15 or 20 days. During the week the Nor'west road has taken 50 bxs Lemons, 60 bbls Dried Fruit, 25 cs Tobacco, and several large lots of Hats, also some Drugs, etc. From Boston, they have taken 121 pkgs Fish, 15 bls Hops, 20 cs Boots and shoes, etc. The Rock Island road have taken 645 pkgs, including 275 cs Tobacco, the balance being Dry Goods, Domestics, etc.

The offerings for to day's steamer have been nearly equal to the shipment by the steamer of the 21st ult., shippers having given the Overland route the "go by," owing to the difference in rates; she will have fully 300 tons for your market. The South American freight will not be large, owing to the non-arrival of the mail by the last steamer.

The comparative statement of shipments, via Cape and Isthmus, for the first five months, show a decrease in most all articles enumerated; the only noticeable increase is in Candles, Soap and Starch, the shipments of which are much above those of last year. The decrease in Fish, Tobacco, and Boots and Shoes, by these routes, are fully made up by the shipments by rail by which route the greater proportion of these articles are now sent.

At Boston, there is a perfect stagnation in the California trade, only one vessel is loading, and she is scarcely doing anything.

Our markets present no unusual show of activity, although there is a fair business in progress in different departments, and the aggregate amount of trade is probably as great as is generally anticipated at this season.

Breadstuffs have been more active at higher prices, notwithstanding the large receipts of Wheat, and continued favorable reports tend to strengthen the market. White Wheats are neglected; California is held at $1 80.

Barley is dull, the only demand being for feed. The stock on hand is not large, and is mainly California, which is held at 85@90.

Hops continue to improve. The brewers are about picking up outside lots, and are in many instances paying advance of two to three cents. Those who control the bulk of the stock are hopeful, refusing to show samples unless the buyers are willing to meet full asking prices. The country advices continue to speak in discouraging terms about the growing crop; 45 bales of prime California brought 23c and were shipped to Liverpool on owner's account.

Hides are dull and prices are lower. The sales include 300 Dry California, 21 lbs, on private terms.

Wool does not continue as active as last week, and there has been a shading in prices, as holders are anxious to close out stock before the new clip arrives. The principal business has been in California Wools, for which there has been a good demand from manufacturers, and full prices have been realized. The sales foot up 275,000 lbs, chiefly spring, at 27@30 for free of burrs, 22@25 for burry, and 23a25 for fall clip.

Wheat and Flour in England.

[From the San Francisco Commercial Herald, June 10.]

We are in receipt of the official report of the New York Produce Exchange to date of May 27th, from which we collect the following interesting data: The estimated crop of the United Kingdom, for 1869, amounted to 11,000,000 quarters, in round numbers, and at the close of May, 1870, 9,321,129 quarters of this crop had been delivered, leaving 1,673,865 quarters yet to be delivered. This is equal to 13,430,920 bushels, or less than a month's consumption for the kingdom. The stock of wheat and flour had been greatly diminished in the London market since January 1st, 1870, and there was no reason to suppose that an equal, or corresponding diminution had not occurred in other principal importing cities. Should there have been a corresponding diminution, the stock on hand—wheat and flour only—would be about 11,470,000 bushels, or less than three weeks' consumption. This amount, together with the 13,430,920 bushels of the undelivered crop, and about 4,000,000 bushels in transit, would give an aggregate supply, toward the close of May, of 28,877,920 bushels, or about two months' consumption. It would require two months more before harvest commenced in England, and those two months must be provided for by importations of wheat and flour. It must be remembered that beans, barley, buckwheat, peas, rye and oats enter largely into the consumption of the English, Scotch, Welch and Irish, but that the steady diminution of all these staples in the London market may be understood and compared, the following table has been furnished:

The rapid decrease of the stock on hand, between January 1st, 1870, and April 30th, 1870, is clearly denoted in the foregoing statement. We have no comments to make but simply state the facts, for the guidance of our farmers, leaving them to draw their own conclusions. Since writing the above, telegraphic dispatches to June 6th announce that the wheat crop in central and northern France is unpromising, and a poorer than an average is expected. In the northwest and eastern sections of Russia the prospects of the wheat crop are mending. In a number of cases in England land sown to wheat has been plowed up and seeded to barley, the wheat having perished.

Markets by Telegraph.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Flour—400 sks Genesee XXX family at $6 00.

Wheat—Offered on change to-day at $1 85, but there were no buyers. We quote at $1 80a1 90. TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system? Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest the cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emission, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating the disease, which never fails of affecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders! who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are blacksmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearny street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 251.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 958 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.
